ADP TotalSource Awards $100,000 in Scholarships to Help Worksite Employees Continue Their Education

Aspire with ADP TotalSource Scholarship Program Seeks to Help Improve Career Advancement and Enhance Productivity by Developing Worksite Employee Skills

ROSELAND, NJ -- (Marketwired) -- 08/03/15 -- ADP TotalSource[®], the largest Professional Employer Organization (PEO) in the United States with more than 370,000 co-employed worksite employees, today announced that it has awarded $100,000 in scholarships to winners of the "Aspire with ADP TotalSource(SM)" scholarship program, which is designed to support worksite employees who wish to continue their academic achievement.

The 50 scholarships, each valued at $2,000, will help to cover tuition and other educational costs at an accredited college, university, technical school or trade school. The winners were selected by an independent third party based on academic achievement, community involvement, a written essay and financial need.

"I'm personally very inspired by the stories thousands of applicants shared for consideration in our first-ever 'Aspire with ADP TotalSource' scholarship program," said Maria Black, president of ADP TotalSource. "It is with great pleasure that we award these scholarships to such a well-deserving group of individuals who are working so hard to advance their education."

The "Aspire with ADP TotalSource" scholarship program is one of the many health, wealth, life and work benefits ADP TotalSource provides for its clients to support the growth and development of their worksite employees. With its focus on continuing education, the scholarship program seeks to improve career advancement and productivity by developing worksite employee skills.

A PEO like ADP TotalSource allows a small or mid-sized company to offer the same services and benefits as those at a global company, without the need to staff a global human resources (HR) department. Clients typically retain ADP TotalSource to help reduce their compliance risk, streamline their HR operations, accelerate their growth, and keep costs stable while providing access to Fortune 500®-caliber benefits.
