

ADP Workforce Now with Global Payroll Integration Simplifies Multi-Country Payroll

Offering provides fully connected system of record with end-to-end, multi-country payroll technology and processes

ROSELAND, N.J., Jan. 20, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- As work evolves in a global world, so must payroll. To help employers manage an increasingly global workforce, ADP today announces the integration of multi-country payroll functionality into ADP Workforce Now®. The new offering supports U.S. and Canadian headquartered businesses managing payroll in multiple countries with an integrated system of record.

ADP Workforce Now simplifies managing end-to-end multi-country payroll through standardized payroll technology

ADP Workforce Now with Global Payroll eliminates the challenges that disconnected systems present by offering native, seamless integration and navigation. By delivering an integrated vendor platform, ADP provides world-class data integrity and improves multi-country payroll efficiency to help meet diverse and increasingly complex payroll obligations. Now, organizations utilizing ADP Workforce Now can manage and maintain information on employees residing in more than 50 countries, helping to tackle challenges unique to their business goals.

"As organizations evolve and expand globally, businesses will need technology to drive efficiency and expand their capabilities," said Laura Brown, president, Major Account Services and ADP Canada. "Using our robust technology and proven processes, ADP delivers real-time integration that automatically syncs Workforce Now data with global payroll so that workers can be paid accurately and on time around the world. ADP Workforce Now with Global Payroll is another tool in our expansive line-up to meet our clients' needs as the world of work changes."

ADP Workforce Now with Global Payroll simplifies managing end-to-end multi-country payroll through standardized payroll technology and processes. Using just one vendor, businesses can seamlessly keep their HR and payroll data connected, with less time spent on data entry, all supported by ADP's unique managed support model.
