New integration offers clients cloud-based solution for payroll, HR, time and attendance, benefits and talent management

ROSELAND, N.J., January 24th, 2024 –ADP®, a global technology company providing human capital management (HCM) solutions, and Acumatica, a leading cloud ERP company, are partnering to bring a holistic view of business and HR data to the market through leading ERP and HCM systems. - Greater insights: Real-time visibility of financial and HR transactions for informed decision-making with user-friendly dashboards and analytics tools.
- Efficiency: Integration enables dynamic updates in both systems with a single user input.
- Peace-of-mind: Proprietary integration technology provides secure, encrypted, real-time data access between applications.

According to Carla Brown from SWK, “we are so excited about this partnership between ADP and Acumatica. SWK has had a strategic partnership with ADP for years and we know this is only going to enhance the relationship. This is another exciting opportunity for our clients that can help them save time and enhance productivity through automation.”

“This synergistic relationship, combining Acumatica’s cloud technology expertise with ADP’s powerful employee and financial data, allows our joint customers be more productive,” said Joseph Algerio, vice president, partner development at ADP. “Company data is being used, through AI technology, to generate insights that empower companies to make better people decisions.”
